States? Instead of this, the Tribune and the radical republicans are doing all in their power to make the separation of the cotton States permanent, and to force the border slave States to follow their example. The lesson from Hungary therefore applies in a special degree to the doctor of the Tribune. Physician, heal thyself.

THE INDEPENDENCE OF CANADA-WILL SHE BE A MONARCHY OR A REPUBLIC!—We perceive that the London Post, Lord Palmerston's organ, hopes "that the Colonial Office will listen to the wishes of British North America, which is clausoring for confederation." The Post is of opinion that in view of the dismemberment of the American Union into three confederacies, which it thinks probable, British North America, if left to work out its own destiny, will eventually become the dominant power on the continent, and thus prove that, when monarchial institutions are brought face to face with republican institutions, the latter are found utterly unable to bear the pressure of a political crisis or of revolutionary force. Our British contemporary is anxious to test the merits of the two systems side by side, in order to see whether, notwithstanding the laudations of Mr. Bright, republican institutions are not as little likely to secure freedom, cheapness and peace as the despotic governments of Europe. Those institutions have, in Europe, been placed side by side, in the case of Switzerland, England, France and Austria. The result is known to the world. It would not be different here The only barrier to the rapid prosperity of Canada is her provincial dependence, and her want of connection with a federal republic like the United States. Only just let Canada be completely independent, and she will become, not the dominant power on the continent, but part of that dominant power, secure in her rights and liberties against the tyranny of the British Queen's Bench, the tyranny of the British government itself, and the whole world in arms. Is not that a mighty destiny for Canada? A very brief time will determine whether she is worthy of it, or whether we must not annex her by force, and train her up as a territory in the way she should go. As she will not surrender our fagitive slaves, even when they commit murder, we fear we must take the law of nations into our own hands.

CLEAN STREETS -The new street contractor has entered upon the performance of his duty, and his employes are now busily engaged in their labors. It is a matter of the first importance that the work should be well done. New York has too, long suffered under the imputation of being the dirtiest city in the world; and, beyond this, there is the vital question of the public health, which is seriously affected by the un cleanliness of the great thoroughfares. The compensation given by the Corporation is presumed to be ample, the bid of the successful contractor being nearly one hundred thousand dollars over and above the lowest sent in to the Comptroller. The fact is that the taxpayers are perfectly willing to provide for the remuneration of the contractors if they do their work. The difficulty heretofore has been that the contractors took the money, kept Broadway and a few other prominent streets in decent condition, and let the others go. Now it is absolutely required that the whole city shall be thoroughly cleaned once a week. To show that we are ready to assist in the matr, we intend to detail a special Street Commissioner from the HERALD office, to represent the citizens, distinct from the authorities and the politicians. It will be his duty to examine the condition of the streets, and to report to the public the facts in the case without fear or favor. Se the new contractors will please to bear in mind that there is a "chiel amang them takin' notes," and the public may rest assured REYN ACADEMY OF MUSIC .- "Don Giovanni" was given at this house last night to an audience nearly double that which attended its representation at the New York Academy the previous evening. The performance was, in consequence, an improvement on the spiritiess manner in which it was then rendered, all the artists exerting themselves creditably and being rewarded with a fai share of applause. hiss Hinkley threw much more spirit and coquetry into her acting than on the first night and Mile. Elena, who is rapidly gaining in favor with the public, sang the fine, but ungrateful music of Elvira, with a correctness that proved her merits as an artist. Madame Colson was not in as good voice as usual, which was to be accounted for by her having to sing in opera twice yesterday—at the mariner and in the evening. The male artists—Brignoli, Ferri and Susini—sang better than on Friday night, when, either owing to the discouraging effect of a thin house or shortness of preparation, everything seemed to go off badly.

On Monday "The Masked Ball" will be given at the

New York Academy, and on Tuesday Miss Kellogg makes her first appearance in Brooklyn.

THE FIRST DIVISION OF THE NEW YORK MILITIA

TO BE TURNED INTO A SUPPLEMENTAL POLICE FORCE. TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Subjoined you will find a couple of extracts from your washington correspondence, and from a bill now before washington correspondence, and from a bill now before the Assembly:—

Before Weed left New York a plan was perfected in which Weed, Bigelow (formerly of the Pout) and Moses I. Grinnell had a part, as well as the Police Commissioners, which was, to send a squad of detectives South—the expenses to be paid out of a private subscription. These detectives were started of full three, if not four, weeks go. The exact number sent I am unable to state, but sough to watch at Baltimore and vicinity, all along the road to Washington from the above city, in the city of Washington and prominent points in the State of Virguis, and have since that time been on the qui vice for surving facts. On the 13th inst., when the electoral vides were counted, this squad of detectives were all in Washington.

[From the proposed Bill.]

withing facts. On the 19th inst., when the electoral wides were counted, this aquad of detectives were all in Wishington.

Sec. — There shall be appropriated annually, by the Common Council of the city of New York, for the expense of the first division, as part of the police expenses of the city of New York, a sum equal to four dollars for east efficer, non-commissioned officer, musician, and private of the said division, according to the average number which shall parade at the division, brigade and inspection parades, as provided by law. The numbers so parading to be certified on eath by the adjutant, or officer performing the duty of adjutant, of each regiment, and countersigned by the commandant thereof, to the commandant of the division of the commandant of the division and brigade parades, and the iverage computed from such returns shall be certified by the commandant of the division to the Comptroller of the dity of New York, who shall draw his warrant for saidsom, and deposit the same with the county treasurer, to uc credit of the division board of officers of said division to be applied to the military expenses of the division, as breinafter provided.

Sec. — The sum so to be appropriated for the military expenses of the First division shall be annually levied and assessed as part of the expenses of the city and county for New York, for the maintenance of the police department of said city.

What is the meaning of all this? Is Mr. Fouche Kenned to withdraw all the police force, which annually cent the city such a large sum to guard Georgia muskets and told black republican measurements of cost the city such a large sum to guard Georgia muskets cost the city such a large sum to guard Georgia muskets and iold black republican surveillance over the people of othe States, while our citizens are to be indiscriminately taxe four dollars per head for every member of the Firs division as another "part of the police expenses of the ity of New York" Will the gallant members of the Firs division submit to be thus attached to the tail of these wandering policement For if they receive pay from they tust must they not expect to follow their dictation? It seems to me the a must be some sort of a coalition between Mr. Fouche Konnedy and the hero of Prince Albert's scoption.

ESCAPE OF A FUGITIVE SLAVE—EXCITEMENT ON PIER NO. 13.

Just previous to the sailing of the steamenip Yorktown vesterday afternoon, for Virginia, a scene which create quite an excitement occurred at plar No. 13, North river. About three o'clock a close carriage, containing two Dewharf. The slave was said to belong to Mr. Jameson, of wharf. The slave was said to belong to Mr. Janeson, of Lynchburg, Virginia, and to have confessed that fact to his master, who is now in the city, before the two marshals above mentioned. However this may be, when the officials alighted, Gumbo showed no very strong inclinations to fellow suit, and, in fact, resisted all invitations to step out on terra firma. Persuasion falling, the marshals resorted to coercion, forced the negro from the wagon, and hurriedity endeavored to ship him on beard the Yorktown. But the negro, slave or no slave, clung with no submissive grasp to the rails of the plank, and shouted out with an appealing voice, evidently intended for the rox popul. Responsive to the cry, the people gathered around in a crowd in a few minutes, and to them the slave cried in desperate and piteous tones, "Oh, men, save me, save me, save me. I'm not the man, no, no; oh, save, save." A policeman, named Armstrong, came up at this juncture and interfered, asking the marshals to, produce their warrants and show their authority for shipping off the darkey as a slave. Not having the necessary documents, one of the marshals turied off to fortify himself with the authoritative papers, leaving the negro meanwhile in the custady of the other deputy. But before the efficer had time to return, the slave, urged on by the crowd, cut the company of his keeper, and made tracks for life, running rapidly towards West street. The Marshal briskly pursued, but the slave proved nimble of foot, and in a short time was completely out of sight. It is said be crossed to Jersey City, where another warrant will be necessary for his arrest. The affair created quite a sensation.

WILL OF MRS. BLANKMAN.

Edwin Bennett was the first witness called in this case yesterday. It will be remembered that he was also on the stand on Friday. He testified that he thought he yesterday. It will be remembered that he was also on the stand on Friday. He testified that he thought he knew Mailiard's writing, but was of opinion that the signature affixed to the will was not in his writing. He never saw Mailiard write anything but his name, and therefore could not give evidence regarding the words "Park place and New York," following the signature. On the cross-examination this witness testified that the signature, with the exception of the "M," that he had not seen him write within two years, and being shown some of Mailiard's signatures, pronounced them not his in his opinion.

P. B. Brook was the next witness for the contestestants. He has been engaged in the forwar-ling business for seven years at Coenties slip; he was familiar with Mailiard's writing eleven years ago, but it did not appear to him that the signature to the will offered for probate is the hand Mailiard wrote at that time; his opinion was that the signature was not Mailiard's, the gha man's hand changes wonderfully in eleven years, and it might be his writing; he could not be certain.

Henry L. Butler, Clerk of Sing Sing prison, was next sworn—He testified that he knew Mrs Blankman from 1850 to 1800; that he was in the habit of receiving letters from her; that he did not think the signature to the will was in her writing, though he had never seen her write the name of Blankman.

John Milton Smith, Secretary of the Home Insurance Company, testified that he had seen two receipts and a power of attorney from J. Augusta Bennett, and thought the signature to the will offered for probate was not in her writing. He had never seen her signature of Jane A. Blankman.

Norman A. Freeman was sworn for the contestants rext, and he testified that he had seen Mailiard write three or four years ago, and did not think that the A. T. Mailiard in the will was in his writing. Mr. Brady, Mr. Blankman.
